FOREWORD

Throughout history mankind has been faced with challenges to perpetuate his existence. Today especially is known as an ERA OF CHALLENGE. The individual must keep his identity in the midst of an ever-changing, ever-pressuring society. The road each human follows offers many choices, but one is almost indistinguishable from the other. Man must keep his present environment; that which is nature's bounty cannot be improved. The scars of man's material wealth must be removed or man will die of suffocation in the midst of his refuse. As man turns to face one problem, another confronts him. This nation has allowed a greater majority of its populous to cast ballots thus allowing them to try to answer the problems of their existence. Peace and freedom constantly challenge all mankind. To enjoy both, men must work together as brothers on this ever-shrinking globe. The staff of Scope, 1973, hopes to show how today is an unending ERA OF CHALLENGE.

DEDICATION

There is a man among us who may not always wish to make his physical presence felt but his service and dedication are continuously evident. He was graduated from Medina Central School in 1950. He has received degrees in Music from the State Universities of New York at Fredonia and Buffalo.

In 1956, he joined the staff of Royalton-Hartland Central School. Since his first day, his services have been apparent in many ways. He heads the assembly committee; he works hours preparing half time shows to be performed by A-Band at football games; and he spends weekends adjudicating at music competitions. He is presently a supervisor at the Medina Youth Center and is a member of the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church.

In recognition of your outstanding dedication and devotion to your students and the world that surrounds you, and with gratitude for not allowing yourself to catch the highly prevalent disease of apathy, we of Press Club dedicate Scope, 1973, to you, Robert E. Cavers.

The Board of Education of Royalton-Hartland is comprised of seven members, each selected for a term of five years. This year Ronald Montgomery and James Perry are new members. Regular meetings are held twice a month and many special meetings are also convened. The School Board publishes a Newsletter at various times during the year in an effort to keep the taxpayers informed.

The annual meeting is held publicly in the Spring at which time the Board presents its proposed budget to the district for approval.

The students of Royalton-Hartland extend their thanks to the members of the Board for their unselfish work on behalf of the school.

Our school administrators are interested in providing the best possible educational environment for the students of the Royalton Hartland School District.

The duties of an administrator are many and varied. Important among these is the responsibility to keep abreast of new methods and techniques and to encourage the implementation of these programs in the curriculum.

The primary consideration of an administrator is to prepare each student for the world he is about to enter. This preparation varies with each child's potential, but each child is encouraged to become all he is capable of being. The goal of our administration is to prepare each student to meet the challenges of his own future and to make the decisions affecting their lives based on a sound, basic education.

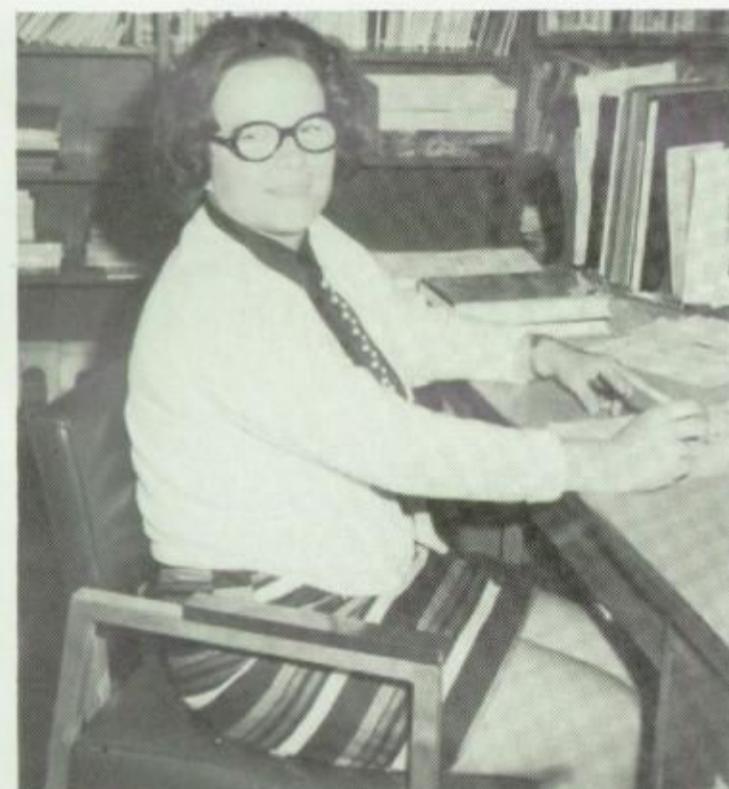

MR. ROBERT GALBREATH, Assistant Principal

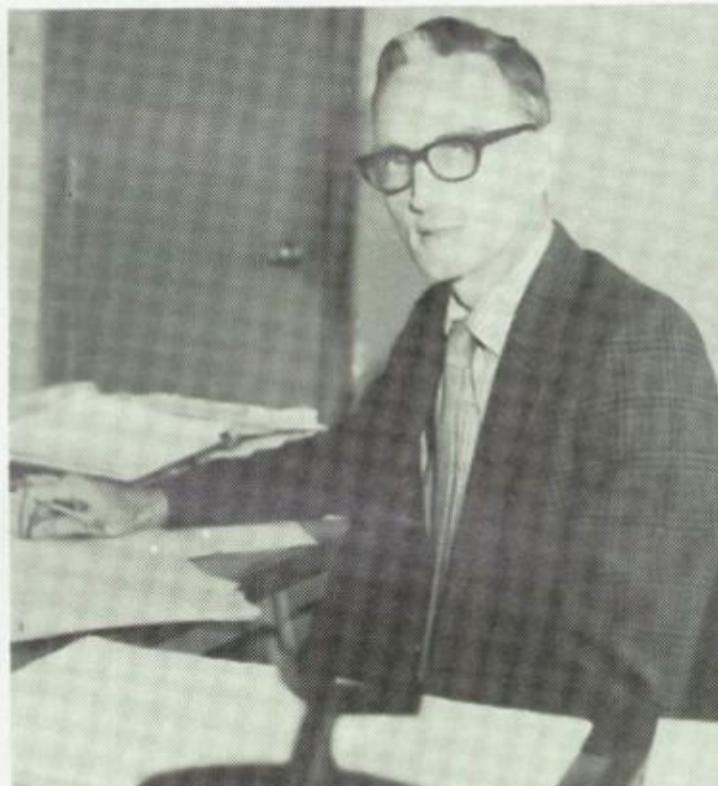

Now that graduation is nearing we have come to realize that nothing stands still in life. There must be advancement and growth, or there is retrogression. We who set goals in life achieve more than those who allow themselves to wander aimlessly. For many of us graduation is the attainment of an important goal and a time when we must set new goals and be prepared to meet the difficulties that lie ahead.

Keep in mind the importance of health, humility, concern for others, industry, character and faith. Make your choices wisely, using the knowledge and experience acquired in the past to help you determine your future. Above all, have the courage and wisdom to make the choice that is best for you and mankind.

Other students study Shakespeare's works and other famous writers and playwrights. Mass Media, debates and all facets of English, old and new, are taught.

At the present time, two additional goals have been set; an increase in the number of elective courses with students' interests dictating materials; and the introduction of minicourses. Through new advanced teaching Roy-Hart hopes to extend its English department and help each individual student.

Science is the Backbone of Technology

The curriculum at Roy-Hart offers a wide selection for the student interested in science. A new science program has been introduced on the junior high level. Seventh grade offers a study of life; eighth grade is concerned with physical science; and ninth grade concentrates on earth science. Earth science includes astronomy, geology, and meteorology. Human and plant physiology and their functions are studied in biology. In chemistry, the nature of atoms and elements is taught. Physics students are instructed in energy and matter relationships. Labs are held for the biology, chemistry, and physics courses where the principles explained in class lectures are demonstrated.

MRS. EILEEN NEWTON,
Mathematics 7 and 8, Spanish 1

Mrs. Newton points out where Steve Ruppel has made his mistake.

Today's complex world calls for a basic understanding of mathematics. Mathematical symbols are used in many different areas: to tabulate data by a programmer at an IBM machine, to scale a draftman's blueprint at the drawing board, to take a measurement by a chemist in the laboratory, and, on the student level, to plot a graph while working with an equation.

In junior high, the students basic computational skills are developed according to his own capabilities. He may then expand his skills through the more advanced courses offered in high school.

Languages are the Pedigrees of Nations

MR. HOWARD NELSON, Latin 1, 2, and Latin Prose, English 2, Humanities

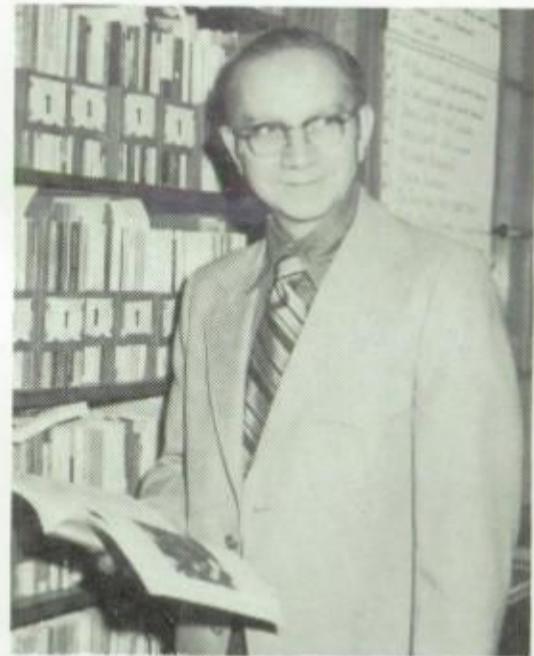

Wendy receives advice on French grammar from Mrs. Hagood.

Increased interest in foreign language study has been brought about by our country's expanded involvement with foreign lands and the need to understand the people and their cultures. International travel has also advanced. This has brought the world closer together and has provided the opportunity and necessity for the utilization of foreign languages. The audio-visual approach with emphasis on civilization, backgrounds and current events is employed by our German, French, Latin and Spanish classes.

MRS. LEONORA BOWERMAN,
Counselor, National Honor Society
Co-Adviser

The work of a guidance counselor is comprised of many related duties. Some basic phases of guidance counseling are; arrangement of students schedules, discussing any problems students have encountered and familiarizing students with colleges and tests which are needed for admission. Although some people feel that this is the sole function of a guidance counselor, many other phases are apparent in their activities. They frequently discuss family problems in an effort to suggest where people can go for help in solving them; they make suggestions based on the relationships between the individual's potentials and his desires; and they attempt to help students make the best possible decisions for their future educational and vocational activities. Mr. Shanley, who is new to the Guidance Department, is available to help students find part-time jobs in the area. Adults are also welcome to make an appointment with a guidance counselor.

Creativity

The fascinating samples of portraits, assemblages, and photography, seen in displays and art rooms, represent an encouragement of style and individuality by the art department. In addition to the traditional art and photography classes, this year, unique mini-courses including movie-making, acrylic painting, ceramics, stage design, drawing, sculpture and product design have been added to Roy-Hart's curriculum. Art students enjoy creative competition with other schools. The department has also made arrangements with the State University College at Buffalo to accept student art teachers. The effect is mutual enrichment. The over-all result of these combined factors is a flourishing and productive art department.

Roy-Hart proudly presents its Music Department. This department offers a wide variety of opportunities to those interested in music. Students throughout the Jr.-Sr. High School participate in such activities as the fall and spring concerts, pop-concert, school musicals and Messiah. If a student plays an instrument, he may participate in B-Band, A-Band or Orchestra. The Music Department also offers variety in the study of music through Music Theory and Appreciation. This area also offers the opportunity to probe the different periods of music, such as the Classical Period, the Renaissance Period, or the modern day blues, jazz and rock. Interested? Why not investigate?

The goal of the business department is to prepare students for a place in the world of business. Students develop desirable qualities and abilities, as well as secretarial and clerical skills. Secretarial students learn to operate office machines, to take notes efficiently, and to appreciate the importance of typing proficiently, while accounting students learn bookkeeping and accounting practices. In Distributive Education attractive window and advertising displays and effective salesmanship procedures are studied. In Business Law, one learns the basics of everyday law. Each student is admonished to develop his skills to his fullest, and to practice the habits of office occupations right in the classroom.

Instruction in the use of the library is given to some classes on a regular basis, while others receive this type of assistance as the teacher deems it necessary.

Food for Thought

MISS JEAN RAUSCHER, Home Economics 7, 1 and 2, Home Economics Department Chairman, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser

MRS. HELEN KROG, Home Economics 7, 8 and 1, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser, Red Cross Youth Adviser

Many hands make light work.

Where have all the mouth watering fragrances been coming from? The home economics kitchen, of course! The pupils learn the art of baking, cooking and preserving food. Child care and the making of a happy marriage are important topics for discussion. The pupils also learn how to manage their homes, families and money. A study is made of the essentials of dressmaking and personal grooming. New additions this year are minicourses dealing with specialized areas of home economics. As a result of their training, home economics students are equipped to become contributing members of society.

Learning to Make a Better Life for Better Living

Physical Fitness is a Key to Success

Physical education at Roy-Hart is encouraged through a wide variety of sports and activities. Physical fitness is accomplished through such activities as basketball, football, softball, bombardment, volleytennis, track and field. Students are tested each year in speed, proficiency and endurance by the New York State Physical fitness test.

During the winter, gymnastic activities include the use of the trampoline, horse, parallel bars, ropes and rings. Some of the individual activities practiced throughout the year include archery, tennis and rhythmic exercises. Students go to the pool once a week for swimming activities and are tested on their conditioning, speed and endurance in the water, by the Standardized American Red Cross Pool Test.

Working Towards Perfect Health

"Would all seventh grade girls whose names begin with the letters A through C, please report to the health room immediately?" This is a familiar announcement heard at physical examination time. Vision and hearing screening tests are also given. If there are any irregularities, the nurse reports these to the pupil's parents. The health room is a resource center to obtain information on health and health-oriented careers. The dental hygienist checks and cleans the student's teeth. The parents are informed of any problems. Another job of the dental hygienist is teaching the fundamentals of caring for the teeth. The main job of the health department is to promote and maintain the health of the students and the school personnel.

Health is a required course taken by students in grades eight and eleven. Its principal function is to enlighten students concerning general health information and current health problems. Topics of discussion include the bodily effects of tobacco, alcohol and pollution. The various aspects of physical, mental and emotional health are studied. Body anatomy, personality traits, good grooming and sex education are also emphasized. Personal relationships and family life are discussed and analyzed. Health education helps a student to make wise personal decisions and cope with today's health problems.

Mechanical Skills are Developed

Mr. Kaz demonstrates the proper use of the table saw.

Our Industrial Arts Department offers students the opportunity to expand their technical skills. Seventh and eighth grade students receive instruction in Metal Shop, Electrical Shop and Graphic Arts. Transportation Shop, General Metal and General Electricity are taught in senior high. Mechanical Drawing classes provide the guide and the pathway to technology. Through these classes, students are supplied the basic information needed for entrance into the technological world.

The agriculture program is designed to train students to meet the increasing demands being placed on today's farmers. Three classes, taken progressively, are included in this curriculum: Non-Vocational Agriculture, Agriculture Production and Management, and Agriculture Mechanics. Students learn electrical techniques, soldering and plumbing, as well as general repair techniques for the maintenance of farm equipment. Up-to-date information is obtained by using magazines, pamphlets, and reports in their course of study.

Responsibility

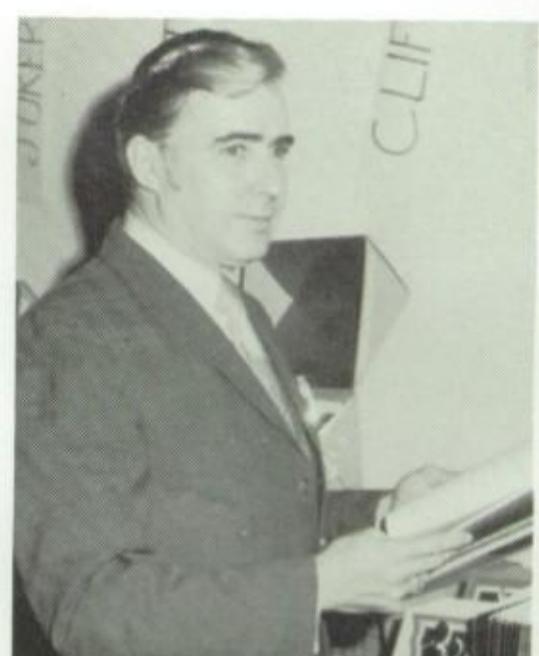

Is Taught

Run for your lives! The driver education car is zooming down the street again. The main objective of the driver education course is to help the students understand their responsibilities as drivers. Defensive driving, traffic laws pertaining to moving vehicles and respect for other drivers are major topics studied. Discussions are held on the psychological and physical factors in accidents, types of accidents and traffic problems. The various parts of the car and their operation are reviewed. The students are able to put these valuable theories of driving into practice on various road conditions.

Reading
Enriches
The Mind

MISS SUSAN FITZMORRIS, English 8, Reading 7 and 8, Seventh Grade Co-Adviser

MR. MELVIN MACNEIL, Reading 7, 8 and 9.

Reading instruction is offered in seventh and eighth grades to refine the reading skills the student has acquired in the elementary reading program. Other happenings this year in reading were extended reading instructions for ninth graders, voluntary reading with emphasis on study skills, tutoring for sophmores, juniors and seniors, and the Reading Break pilot program.

When each student graduates, he needs to be equipped to cope with the vast multiplicity of reading that demands his attention in the world. Toward this goal the reading department personnel is striving.

A Place to find the Answer

MR. JOHN WILSON, Resource Teacher

What happened? Room 133, formerly renowned as a massive study hall, has been transformed into a bright, attractive room with a maze of orange and yellow wall dividers. The reason for this change is that an attempt to give individual assistance to students has been instigated. The appropriate materials for this endeavor are primarily audio-visual materials; filmstrips, records, and cassettes, all of which are supplemented by printed materials. A nook known as the Continuous Progress Laboratory guides students as to the approach to available resources. In spite of the limited capacity of the research capacity of the research room, its premiere has certainly been successful. It is hoped that in future years the room will be available to all students as well as the present participants. Individuality is the theme being promoted in schoolwork.

Mrs. Potter helps students in the resource center.

Two seventh grade students listen to an assignment tape available to them in the resource center.

Speaking is a very important process in all of our lives since it is our primary manner of communication. Roy-Hart offers speech correction services to help students overcome their speech problems.

The program includes evaluation and remediation for speech difficulties, language delays, auditory perception problems, and voice disorders. Our goal is to identify and correct these barriers to communication as early as possible.

Root beer, ice cream sandwiches, pizzas and no school uniforms are some of the unusualities I have enjoyed since coming to the United States. Friendliness and helpfulness are also characteristic of the people I have met in the United States. America is really what I expected it to be — beautiful, impressive, with almost the kindest most hospitable people in the world.

Julie Clemence, Exchange Student from South Africa

It has been a very enriching and interesting experience being a student at your school. The friendliness and understanding that you have shown me made it so much easier to adapt to new customs and different ways of looking at things. I not only had the opportunity to learn a lot about your country, but my stay has also helped me to understand my own culture better.

Susanne Pfunder, Exchange Student from Germany

I am enjoying my year in Australia and have had many experiences that I wish I could share with everyone. Meeting people of all kinds is the highlight for me, the best times I have had have been at places where people of all nationalities have been. Seeing people getting along, sharing ideas and feelings is, in my opinion, the most beautiful sight there is.

Darlene Shoup, Exchange Student to Australia

Looking back on my year in Mexico, it was one of happy memories for me. I learned how to get along with all kinds of people, including myself. I am very thankful to my parents, my Mexican family and my friends for helping me along when the going got rough.

Mexico is truly a beautiful country, rich in culture and heritage. I only hope that any other person who travels there can learn to appreciate Mexican life as I did.

Becky Kovac, Exchange Student to Mexico

I enjoyed my year in New Zealand and have many laughable memories about it. The time I didn't quite learn how to ski, and the day I gagged upon the discovery that what I'd just eaten was raw fish are a few of the more memorable occasions.

After a year of being a foreigner, it has been difficult to return and catch up on events here. I would like to thank everyone who helped me get back into the routine of life at Roy-Hart.

Remember when?

THE YEAR WE'VE BEEN AWAITING

1973 – It hardly seems possible that this year has finally come! For so long now we've been waiting for graduation – and now it's just a short time away.

Thirteen years ago we entered the Royalton-Hartland school system. Some of us attended kindergarten in the Gasport and Middleport elementary buildings, while two of the kindergartens were held in the high school. While in elementary school many field trips were in store for us. Some of the kindergarten classes went to the Buffalo Zoo. In second grade, we visited Lockport's police station, post office, and observed a boat passing through the locks. Remember the little cans of applesauce we received after touring the VB facilities in Lyndonville? Then, in third grade, we went to a bakery in Buffalo, and to the Buffalo airport, which really looked big to us little folks! In fourth grade, the Gasport students visited the Niagara County Museum. Old Fort Niagara proved to be an interesting place to visit in fifth grade. In sixth grade, we visited the Seagram's Tower in Niagara Falls, the Robert Moses Power Plant, and Kowalski's farm on the 4-H conservation field day. By the time we were in sixth grade, we were beginning to feel pretty big. Mr. Fox's sixth grade class enjoyed doing the play, "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," which proved to be fun as well as instructive. On Orientation Day all of the sixth grade classes from both schools visited and toured the high school. Suddenly we felt like little people again and wondered how we'd ever survive those first few days of junior high! But it wasn't really that bad, and we soon learned where our many classrooms were located. School now became a little more interesting since we were able to participate in extracurricular clubs and activities. In eighth grade, we planned the last four years of high school, not realizing how fast those years would go by! In our junior year, Thespina Zayyat from Jordan joined us. As juniors, we also received our class rings and enjoyed individual pictures in the yearbook. Our prom, Love Is . . ., held at the Lockport Sheraton Inn, proved to be an evening of pleasure.

In our senior year, we have enjoyed the presence of Sue Pfunder from Germany. We've kept busy with interviews exams, college forms, and other details deserving our attention as we plan for the future. Our thirteen years at Roy-Hart are coming to a close, but, as we leave, we will take with us many memories of the fun and experiences we've had together.

We are Represented

"The Spanish Club would like to sell some doughnuts in the cafeteria during the first week in January." Making sure that no two clubs are selling conflicting items at the same time is one of the duties of the Student Council. Many of the issues that pertain to the students' life at Roy-Hart are discussed at the Student Council meetings. If the council feels that a problem needs special attention, a letter is sent to the administration, or a special meeting is called. When there is a need, committees are organized from the Student Council itself. An example of this would be the committees that ran the seventh grade elections earlier this year.

High Standards are Met

The National Honor Society assembly begins. The auditorium falls into silence, and the minds of Juniors and Seniors begin to race. "Will I be accepted or not?" Each year five percent of the Senior class and ten percent of the Junior class are inducted into the Society. Membership is very selective, and it is based on the qualities of scholarship, leadership, service and character as seen in each student. After the selections are made, the inductees attend a luncheon where a formal ceremony is held. This year, for their annual project, members have been working in the resource center assisting other students.

Proofreading is one of the more tedious tasks. Here Mary Munzel, our editor, does a final proofreading of the sports copy.

A Book Of Memories

SCOPE '73 — it's finally here! Press Club members have been working diligently to produce a book of memories of the year. Some of the tasks performed were: designing layouts, writing articles, taking pictures, typing, drawing dummy copies, and proofreading. Club members also held a successful stationery sale which aided them to purchase additional camera equipment. Five members attended an informative yearbook forum at Rosary Hill College in Buffalo, and the entire club toured the Eddy Printing Company in Albion where the yearbook is printed.

Club Turns Into Class

"All right, has anybody seen the Senior Class article?" This is one of the frequent cries heard during the laying out of the ECHO. This year the ECHO is being produced by the Seniors' Journalism Class in conjunction with a group of underclassmen. The class rotates editors and does layout while the people out of class contribute photographs and articles.

Eight issues are produced each year. The Christmas issue features students' creative works in poetry, photography and essay form. The June issue highlights all the seniors and their future plans.

Creative Arts are Expressed

This year, Writer's Club published two issues of the school's literary magazine, SOUNDINGS. The magazine contained photographs and graphic art as well as poems, essays, and other literary works. Work was submitted from all grade levels, and then it was judged, and the best entries were chosen for publication. Members of the club submitted their own writings and also brought in selections from other students for the magazine. A prize of ten dollars was awarded for the best entry in each issue. Students whose creative ideas were expressed in SOUNDINGS may someday have their works published in renowned publications.

Test Your Brain Power

Matching wits with Eden Central School and Westfield Academy, a Royalton-Hartland team appeared on the high school quiz program, IT'S ACADEMIC. The team readied itself by practicing under the guidance of Mr. Uschold, the five-year veteran coach of the Roy-Hart representatives. The three students displayed intelligence and confidence throughout the program in answering the questions which covered varied subject matter. In a close and high scoring match, the Roy-Hart team came in second. Royalton-Hartland Central School can be proud of these students and the great effort and enthusiasm they displayed.

"May I Have Your Attention Please?"

"Would the following students please report to the Guidance Office?" This request was probably delivered by one of Roy-Hart's well coached Announcers Club members.

Members of this club have many and varied activities. They announce at Sports events and assemblies, and each year they trek to a Buffalo radio station to see what the life of an announcer is really like.

Before being allowed to announce over the P.A. System, a member must practice diction and enunciation.

Members Operate Multi-Media

Wanted! One television program taped or maybe a few commercials. This ad could be answered by any Audio-Visual Club member. Members also perform many other services. They assist in musicals and dramatic productions produced in the school auditorium. Their daily schedules include delivery of projectors, record players, tape recorders, and video taping programs for classroom use the next day. If desired, equipment will be operated for the teacher's convenience. The equipment is collected at the end of each day. Thanks to the Audio Visual Club a real service is performed for the school community.

Young Scientists Indulge Their Curiosities

Boys and girls in the junior high school who are interested in science may become members of Royalton-Hartland's Junior High School Science Club. Students who especially enjoy science in the classroom find that this club provides them with a further outlet for their interest. Presently, this club is surveying a tract of land, noting any signs of possible plant succession any other changes in the ecology. Members also are encouraged to participate in the Science Fair that Roy-Hart holds annually. We wish the Science Club the best of luck!!

All Systems Go

The scientifically minded students of Roy-Hart have an opportunity to put some of their ideas into action in Rocket Club. They study the mystical theories and principles of rocket flight. Some aims of the club are to increase and establish model rocket safety, to increase model rocket knowledge, and to learn and perfect building skills. At meetings, rockets, engines and their good and bad qualities are discussed. Rocket launches are conducted when the weather is favorable. In the winter, the boys are busy constructing individual rockets and club rockets.

Engineers at Roy-Hart

One of the newest after-school activities at R-H is the Model Railroad Club. The members hope to achieve a working skillfulness with models while having fun at the same time. Since the club was chartered last year, work has been centered on the construction of a model railroad. The members have enjoyed working on this project under the guidance of Mr. William Travers. It has proved to be an interesting new hobby for all involved.

"Tis the Season To Be Jolly!" Shut-ins may be greeted with this familiar tune by Red Cross members. Christmas caroling is only one of the many services the club performs. They make up packages containing cookies they have baked for patients in Viet Nam hospitals. Red Cross conducts the annual Goodwill Drive and helps Medical Careers Club with Christmas baskets for the needy. Working with the County Red Cross and other Red Cross clubs, they do a good job of bringing joy to unfortunate people everywhere.

Roy-Hart's Agrarians

Interested in down to earth country living and fresh air? Well, members of Future Farmers of America are. Besides teaching young people modern methods of crop raising, soil composition and animal judging, Future Farmers of America also promotes citizenship, public speaking, parliamentary procedure, sportsmanship and leadership. All members participate in such activities as group lectures, giving reports and judging contests. To raise money for various projects such as field trips and visits to local farms, Future Farmers of America annually sponsors a large pancake supper.

Young People Dedicated to a Profession

"Is your temperature rising?" Members of the Medical Careers Club assist Mrs. Hamilton in caring for fellow students. Students also sponsor the annual food drive. This project fulfills the dedication of the members toward their fellow man. Some of the other activities include an annual field trip. This year they toured the Meyer Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, and Niagara University. Some of the members joined in the volunteer program at the Veteran's Hospital in Buffalo during the summer while others worked at the area Nursing Homes. The Wendy Wollenburg memorial watch is awarded to the most deserving Senior member going into nursing.

Germany Comes To Roy-Hart

"Guten Tag, Deutsch Verein! Willkommen zu Roy-Hart!" The newly formed German Club has many active and well informed members. They planned a Christmas party in December at which they enjoyed German food and Christmas carols. In the spring, they planned a real old-fashioned German Folk Fest with many culturally orientated activities. At the regular meetings, they sang German songs, viewed German movies, and had interesting and informative speakers.

The student's understanding of Germany and its customs was greatly enriched by this club!

Le Cercle Francois

Le Cercle Francois, or French Club, is newly formed this year. The club is made up of first, second, third and fourth year French students. The purpose of this club is to further the knowledge of the French language and culture.

A trip to Quebec or Montreal during Easter vacation is one of their goals. Various money making projects help to raise money for this trip.

Some of the members are going to France this summer for a six week period. Besides studying French at a college in Montpellier, they will participate in many other activities, including swimming, shopping and visiting Geneva, Switzerland, and Rome, Italy. The students will return with a better knowledge of the French language and culture.

El Club de Espanol!

"Mas vale una onza de practica, que una libra de gramatica." Better an ounce of practice than a pound of grammar. This proverb applies in particular to members of Spanish Club. Once a month meetings are conducted, and the Spanish language is the medium of communication. This year, money-making projects included a roller skating and a candle sale. In past years, a chili supper and a car wash helped to send students to Spanish-speaking countries. The club's main goal is to help students better understand the Spanish culture and civilization. A fiesta is celebrated at Christmastime, with tacos, flan and a pinata. Members also go caroling, singing Spanish songs.

Hysterical Historians Have Hilarious High Jinks

Have you ever been lost in a Boston Subway? Can you honestly say you almost tripped into Lake George? Probably not, but these are a few of the many incidents that members of the Senior High Historical Society have experienced. This club is dedicated to those who have an interest in history. In order to fulfill their interest, members participate in an annual moneymaking project. They also undertake several smaller projects, all resulting in trips made every two years. These "vacations" are well deserved and prove memorable for everyone. This is truly one of the active groups at Roy-Hart.

Youth Digs Into Past

Exploring history can be fun. The Junior High Historical Society takes many field trips to historic sites including their annual trip to Cooperstown, New York. Cooperstown is filled with many interesting places to tour, one being the Baseball Hall of Fame. The trip to Cooperstown is financed by the sale of delicious candy bars.

Students Learn Responsibility and Cordiality

Many students spend their study hall periods assisting in the high school and guidance offices, as aides, or in the halls as monitors.

An office aide's jobs are many; run errands, find needed students, deliver attendance sheets to teachers, pass out tardy and early dismissal slips to students, file schedule cards, and make announcements on the public address system. Monitors greet visitors and direct or escort them to where they would like to go. Monitors must also check all passes from students passing in the hall and record them. This eliminates unnecessary traffic in the hall. These students learn the many responsibilities of running a business office and cordiality in dealing with people.

The Library's Little Elfs

"Where would I find a biography?" The library club members help students find books and do research. They also help Mrs. Nachtrieb by stamping out books and magazines. The library showcase and bulletin board are responsibly kept up by the club members. The club is a fun organization as well as a work organization. Last summer the club overwhelmed the bowling alleys. They also went on a field trip to the Erie County Library. Everyone agrees that this is a very productive club.

Curtain Going Up

"You Were Born on a Rotten Day" was this year's Drama Club play. During the course of this winter production many "backstage arts" were emphasized. Just a few of the activities stressed, to give the play a more finished air, were scenery, make-up and theatrical lighting. Working on a play helps to breed cooperation, friendship and talent. Drama Club offers all students the chance to learn what happens "behind the scenes" of a high school play.

Actors Learn by Doing

SCENE I: Pooh's house — Enter Pooh. The Children's Theater presented Winney-The-Pooh as their spring production. Until that time the theater group had worked on voice projection, stage movements, and lines. Acting games helped to coordinate all these talents. During the course of the play activities, techniques such as stage directions, scenery, and costuming were stressed. Children's Theater, although it is a "young" club at present, has some great talent. Final act: Pooh's House — cast exits stage right.

Ring It Up!

Did you know Roy-Hart had a cemetery? For Hallowe'en, members of Retailing Club created a dark and frightening cemetery scene in the showcase. It was complete with a coffin! Throughout the year they have new and interesting showcases. The members also work at the cash register in the Book Store and are ready to help everyone with his purchase. They learn how to make change and ring up a purchase. If a student has any problems, they will gladly help him. While working in the Book Store, members also learn about selling and managing processes.

Our Roy-Hart Riflemen

Ready, aim, fire! When you hear these words, plug your ears; the Rifle Club is practicing their shooting. The Rifle Club has obtained an area in the fallout shelter for a rifle range. The devoted members worked diligently on cleaning the area and setting up the range. Since finishing the range, members have been working on shooting and handling the rifles. Our Rifle Club is still young; in time it hopes to grow larger and more successful.

Talented Twirlers Tackle Tricky Tasks

An active part of the marching band is the baton twirlers. Hard work and long hours result in rewarding performances in parades, at football games and concerts. Practices are held each Wednesday from 3:00-5:00, and during seventh period they practice with the band. Routines display originality and utilize selected music. Try-outs are held each year in March. Any girl may participate after two years of lessons. Each summer, majorettes from all over the country gather at local baton camps. Advice for new routines, improvement of uniforms, and elaborate twirls are gained from these. In general, each individual benefits through the experience of twirling.

Protection is our Policy

Brring! Brring! That's the signal to leave the building for a fire drill. Our firewardens arrange fire drills and help with assemblies. Thanks to these fire fighters the length of time needed to empty the building has been shortened. They also arrange for Fire Prevention Assemblies to help make our lives just a little bit safer.

"Is that Bobby Fisher in Room 213?" No, it is just one of the members of Roy-Hart's newly formed Chess Club. Along with the regular Wednesday afternoon meetings, the members conducted a beginner's class, instructing new members in the fundamentals of chess. The club also held a series of runoffs in January to determine who was eligible for the team. This team hopes to compete with other schools in this challenging game of chess.

Around the World With AFS

Senior High American Field Service has involved members in exciting activities to finance exchange students in the United States and foreign countries in the past year. Dances, dinners, and pizza sales headlined the events to promote the understanding that is the goal of AFS. Susanne Pfunder, this year's exchange student from Germany, and Julie Clemence from South Africa made many friends through talks about their native countries. Members displayed the spirit of the club by wearing bright AFS ribbons. Such spirit has combined with fun to create an enjoyable and interesting club for all.

The younger students of the American Field Service eagerly participate in varied activities throughout the year. From pizza sales to Tag Days, these AFS'ers enthusiastically raise money to support exchange students. Energy and conviction combine to make that sale. Could you refuse to buy a pizza? AFS members turn into friends as many interesting events and activities of the year are accomplished. Spirit among these members is so strong that every Roy-Hart student knows that an AFS event is always alive with interesting things to do. AFS offers fun and excitement.

"Let's All Read"

"Have you read the latest SPORTS ILLUSTRATED yet?" This is the type of question which Roy-Hart students ask each other in regard to the new Reading Break. Administrators, teachers and students participate in this program to help foster the idea of reading for the sheer pleasure of it. People in the community have also helped to make this program a success. They have donated varied reading materials which are distributed once a week to each homeroom for use during the reading break.

Course Changes Considered

Interested students and teachers of Royalton-Hartland volunteer their time to study suggestions for improvement of the curriculum. Suggestions concern additional electives, scheduling improvements, more opportunity for independent study, and changes in course requirements. After the committee studies the ideas, they draft recommendations to be submitted to the administration and Board of Education. The committee is aiming for new and worthwhile improvements for the benefit of the whole student body.

Something Has Changed

The cafeteria is a very busy place between 10:37 and 1:07 since all junior-senior high students in the school must eat during this time. Because of the rising number of students, another lunch period has been added. There is now a fourth lunch for the senior students, and this time may also be used to hold a class meeting or to hear a guest speaker. The Cafeteria Committee will make further studies and recommendations to find other changes which may improve the cafeteria conditions.

Major Improvements Planned

The parking space committee was set up for improving and developing methods of accommodating the school's expanding need for parking space. Through the combined efforts of students and teachers, two significant improvements were decided upon. Plans have been made to expand our present parking lot, and construction will begin during the summer. The other major improvement will provide fire lanes, which will insure both the safety and the security of the school building and its occupants.

Committee Encourages Enthusiasm

Roy-Hart rates as one of the area schools with the best school spirit. The reason for this is the enthusiasm of a dedicated group of faculty members and students. This group is known as the School Spirit Committee, and it does its best to promote R-H's great school spirit.

At their meetings, the committee discusses student participation at games and pep assemblies and improved participation in school activities.

With the dedicated help of this committee, R-H will continue to be number one!

Compromises Reached

"We feel that we need four minutes." The Current Problems Committee exists to help solve problems such as this. The committee's suggestions are discussed in four phases — from the committee a suggestion would be brought before the administration and the faculty, and it would finally be returned to the committee where the suggestions would be reviewed and the final compromises made. An open meeting was held last fall so that all students could express all their grievances and state the facts as they saw them. As a result of studying and deliberating each issue, the committee hopes to make Royalton Hartland Central School a more pleasant place to be.

Due to the coaching abilities of Mr. Bruno Pacini and Mr. Kerry Finger and the athletic talent of its members, the Royalton-Hartland Rams Football Team sported a 5-3 overall record and a 3-3 league record. Dennis Ulrich, a senior halfback, was selected to the Niagara-Orleans All League Football Team. Dennis also holds a record for a season's rushing at 711 yards. Rory Guild, Roy-Hart's senior quarterback, passed for a season's record of 614 yards, and holds a career record at 54 completed passes for a total of 1040 yards. Next year's football outlook is good, since this year's juniors will head the squad.

ROY-HART'S REBOUNDERS

This year's basketball team went through a rebuilding stage since Tom Spark was the only returning letterman. Lack of two necessities, size and experience, handicapped the Rams this season. Under the leadership of co-captains Tom Spark and Dan Bragg, the Rams worked together and displayed remarkable determination. Bruce March, who was the leading scorer, was also named Most Valuable Player. Tom Spark and Curt Randolph, the two leading rebounders, proved to be great assets to the team.

Varsity Spirit

Roy-Hart's Varsity Baseball team was extremely enthusiastic. All the players eagerly supported their teammates, and the result was their placing fourth in league competition. The leading hitter on the team was Jim Volkosh, and Dan Sims was recognized as the Most Valuable Player. Geoff Hinkson, who kept those homeruns out of reach of the other team, was the leading pitcher. The team can be very proud of the success they achieved and the spirit they displayed.

The Roy-Hart swim team made a big splash this year. The group included twenty-eight swimmers and three divers, who also participated in swimming events. They spent long strenuous hours building up their stamina to become a winning team. These long hours were spent in preparation for those fleeting moments when they would be in competition in events such as the backstroke, butterfly, relays, 200 and 400 freestyle, and diving. Roy-Hart respects the team's dedication and sincere efforts. Dan Dear tied the record in the 100 Yard Breaststroke held at the State University of Buffalo.

The Wrestling Rams had a winning season this year with a 10-6 record. Winners of the League Championship were Don Dear and Gary Kelkenberg. Don also won the Sectionals and set the Individual Team Record for points, 98. With Don's impressive record he was voted Most Improved and Most Valuable Wrestler.

A good season is anticipated next year since four Varsity Wrestlers will return and several new members from the J. V. squad will join the varsity team.

Doug Lindke runs many long miles for Cross Country.

There goes someone running through the finish line! The Cross Country team has had a challenging season this year. Many long hours were spent in practice to gain experience for the demanding meets this young team attended. They ran about two miles each night during practice sessions. The Team learned a great deal about good sportsmanship when coming in late at the races. All the Cross Country runners of the season will be returning with enthusiasm for a very successful season next year.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Practice is the name of the game. The junior varsity team worked out from the twenty-fifth of August to the first week in November. This resulted in a good record of five wins and three losses. The boys fought an uphill battle in their last game against Albion. Going into the fourth quarter, Roy-Hart was behind six to zero, but the squad came back to win by a score of eight to six. This year's sophmores will certainly be an asset to next year's varsity team. It looks as though next year's junior varsity team may do well with the addition of next year's freshmen. Best of luck to the junior varsity team in the fall season!

"SINK IT BOYS!"

Led by Steve Szklany, the JV basketball team played their best under the direction of their coach William Jamieson. Unfortunately, they went without a win all season. Each year two of the team members, a sophomore and freshman receive The Most Improved Player awards. This year's sophomore recipient is Randy McCloy, and Steve Southard earned the freshman award. All of the players deserve to be congratulated for their team support.

Players Have Team Spirit

Safe! Another run has been scored by the Roy-Hart Junior Varsity team! The past season was filled with the excitement of competition and the enthusiasm of team spirit. Every Ram player was backed up from the bench by the cheers of his fellow teammates urging him to hit a homerun. Although the team didn't win all of the games they played, their attitude was one of the best in the league. All of the players were proud of their team and the members on it.

Roy-Hart's Lettermen

Members of the Varsity Club excelled in at least one sport to earn their varsity letter. These students ushered at basketball games and sold food at football games in the stand to raise funds. The money was used to purchase the awards, trophies, and small equipment. Some of the funds were put towards the electric scoreboard which was purchased this year. In the spring, Varsity Club holds a banquet at which trophies and awards are presented to the outstanding members of the teams.

Cheerleaders Promote Pep

Summer fun turned into summer work as twenty cheerleaders began to practice for the football season. During the school year they practiced every Wednesday night after school from three o'clock to five o'clock. They have promoted a lot of pep to the teams, to cheer them on to victory. After a series of try-outs and eliminations, new cheerleaders are chosen for the following year. During the year cheerleaders also engage in many other projects, such as making posters for games, attending practices during the week, planning pep rallies, attending basketball games, football games and other sport events, and having a money raising project. This year the cheerleaders had a candy sale to help send them to a clinic or competition in the spring.

Swim, Don't Sink!

Anyone who happened to be in the vicinity of the pool some eighth period this spring, and heard music, splashing and other unusual noises had no cause for worry; it was just the members of synchronized swim rehearsing for the annual water show.

The show was presented in May, with three nightly performances and a matinee. The unusual thing about this show was that the girls selected their own music, themes, and costumes.

In the fall, the girls traveled to Brockport's water show to compare notes. All in all, a total club effort was needed to produce RH's best water show ever.

Girls Achieve Fitness Through Sport

Spike it! Sink it! Home it! The cries of victory were yelled by the teams at the girls' volleyball, basketball and softball games. The girls attended clinics for volleyball, badminton and modern dance. Intramurals in basketball, volleyball and tennis were also a part of their activities. The association sponsored a "Sports Fun Day" which included many area schools. It is the objective of the Girls' Athletic Association to become a social service organization with regular monthly meetings.

Curt Snowden warms up for the big event "The Shot Put."

Will you two act your age and get down to business!

I know nostalgia is coming back but this is ridiculous!

And he's ready for the pitch!

He is down but will he stay down?

What a water show chorus line!

Is number 4 the winner? He got a good start.

GASPORT ELEMENTARY BUILDING

MIDDLEPORT ELEMENTARY BUILDING

SIXTH GRADE

MISS ELEANOR COSLEMAN, MR. R. CARLTON FAUSETT, MR. JOHN BEEDON, MRS. RUTH ALLPORT, MRS. ROSE MARIE LANHAM

SIXTH GRADE

Many methods are used at the sixth grade level to help create an ideal learning experience. Group discussion play an important part in the language and social studies areas. In the various reading classes, individualization is employed. Demonstrations and slide presentations are used on a large scale in the science area. A team teaching approach to social studies had been attempted to meet the needs of the sixth grade students. The success of the resulting program is believed to be the departmentalizing of resources by students and teachers.

FIFTH GRADE

MISS NELDA BLACKBURN, MRS. SUSAN GUERRO, MRS. HELEN SHELDON, MRS. JEANETTE LINDKE

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade provides a variety of pathways to self expression. The Joplin plan, with eight different reading levels, insures the child that he will be placed where he can function best. Showing the interdependence of the various geographical regions in the United States is the goal of the social studies program. The science curriculum deals with chemical and physical changes that occur in nature. A review of fourth grade materials, multiplication of larger numbers, division by two numbers, adding and subtracting fractions are all included in the math program. The language arts program reinforces and aids oral and written expression of ideas.

Seated: MR. RICHARD FOX, MRS. DELORES MOROTCHIE

Standing: MRS. COLEEN SLATE, MR. BARRY McCLOY

FIFTH GRADE

MR. ROBERT HYDE, MRS. ELIZABETH STERN, MRS. FRANCES FISH, MR. JOHN MISCH

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade students are making globes this year. As the year progresses, great names in American History are studied. Investigations and actual experiments are performed in science class. Learning to multiply is the great achievement of each fourth grader. Students are also allowed to start music lessons, both instrumental and vocal, at this grade level. These activities help the pupil to become more independent and help him to develop a greater awareness of personal discipline.

FOURTH GRADE

Seated: MR. RICHARD MALTE, MRS. MARY MARGARET HYDE

Standing: MRS. PATRICIA DODGE, MRS. SUZANNE WAGNER

THIRD GRADE

In the third grade, one of the highlights for the children is learning cursive writing. The area of mathematics contains such discoveries as renaming in addition and subtraction and learning to multiply and divide. In social studies, the children are given an opportunity to take a trip around the world in their classrooms as different lands are studied. Responsible citizenship is encouraged by planting trees on the school grounds, Pledging the Flag each day, and celebrating the holidays of our country.

SECOND GRADE

The second grade is a year of discovery and much growth, both social and educational. In reading this year many second grade classes are using the Joplin plan which allows the teacher to give more individual help to each child. Other students are learning about vowels for the very first time. As a group they are studying the community, country, and the world that surrounds them. For enrichment, second graders take a study trip to the Niagara County Historical Museum.

SECOND GRADE

Seated: MRS. BERNICE TINDER, MRS. CHRISTA LUTZ

Standing: MRS. LINDA OTTO, MRS. MARIE McADAM

FIRST GRADE

First graders are active students who are eager to enlarge their skills in reading, writing, arithmetic, language arts, science and social studies. This year a new linguistic program designed to encourage free thought has been introduced. In all areas, students are encouraged to work to the best of their abilities in order to lay a good foundation for future learning.

KINDERGARTEN

The Kindergarten program is designed to help each child grow physically, socially and emotionally. This year the new language arts program correlates reading, handwriting, auditory and oral skills. Music, language, arts and craft skills lean heavily on the child's actual participation in a learning experience. The children become actively interested in the holidays by participation in their celebration. Kindergarten serves as a place to prepare for first grade, which represents the beginning of formal education.

Standing: MR. CHARLES HAWKINS, Instrumental; MR.
STEPHEN PREGMAN, Instrumental

ELEMENTARY MUSIC

Children are introduced to the musical program when they enter school, and their musical learning develops through the grades. The earliest skills are learning how to use the singing voice, how to move with music, and how to become a discriminate listener. Later, introduction to music reading is strengthened by the study of a musical instrument. An awareness of harmony comes when the student sings in the chorus, plays in a string group or plays in the band. For the more musically active student, special musical activities including a Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, June Concert, Niagara County Music Festival, and Instrumental Solo Festival are available.

ELEMENTARY ART

MRS. MARY JANE OLIVER, MISS NANCY HEIMAN

ELEMENTARY READING

MRS. MARJORIE BECKING, Absent: MRS. GERALDINE LUPO

ELEMENTARY ART

All first through sixth grade students meet once a week for art class. The children learn to develop their imaginations and creativity while working with paper mache, chalk, charcoal, paint and clay. They also do designing, three dimensional art, lettering, linoleum block printing and stencil drawings. During the holiday season the students work on special projects including the decorating of the school entrances.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

MR. CARLTON CHASE, MR. DAVID MARCH, MRS. VERA PARSONS, MRS. ELIZABETH BRIDGE

ELEMENTARY LIBRARIAN

MRS. MARGARET BLACKBURN

ELEMENTARY READING

Elementary students need to have a sound foundation in basic reading techniques. Therefore, the elementary reading program is designed to help the students unlock unfamiliar words and understand what they read. For those students who need extra reading instruction the Title I reading aides and the reading specialists provide small group lessons in the reading centers.

LIBRARY

The libraries in the elementary schools provide pleasant places for students and faculty to find and educational materials. The younger children listen to stories, poetry and records and develop an appreciation of library materials. As pupils progress through the elementary grades, they gradually learn how to use and find materials. By the time they enter junior high they have received enough library instruction to function quite independently.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The elementary classes in physical education offer many methods of achievement for all participating students. The primary grades explore such abstract concepts as space, force and time through Movement Education. All students learn to work alone and in small and large teams. As each child passes from level to level, the activities require increased skill. However, the degree of efficiency varies for each individual. Each class is a challenge, and a feeling of achievement is experienced by each student as he recognizes his own abilities.

HEALTH SERVICES

Educators believe that each school child has the right to the best possible physical, mental and social health. If these criteria are met he can benefit fully from educational experiences. Stress is placed on knowledge and attitudes that will aid children in maintaining good health for themselves now and in the future.

Through teacher referrals, physical checkups, vision and hearing screening tests and immunization clinics much can be accomplished to keep children physically and mentally receptive to their learning experiences.

DESIDERATA

"Go placidly amid the noise and the haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is as perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be. And whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be cheerful. Strive to be happy."
